

1930 JUNIOR WEEK IS SUCCESS; RENO IS CHOSEN QUEEN

Tea-dance and Bridge-and-Dance are Very Well Attended.

STUNTS' PRIZE GOES TO BETA KAPPA SKIT

Freshmen Win Rope Pull; Junior Jamboree Is Popular.

The class of 1930 made the week-end of May 9-12 one of the most-outstanding and successful in years. The holiday was crowded with events, including two productions of the play "Not Herbert", the Prom, the tea dance, an innovation combining bridge and dancing, interfraternity stunts, the Soph-Frosh rope-pull, the new Junior Jamboree, inter-fraternity and sorority sings, and various athletic meets.

Junior Week events reached their height Friday night at the Middlebury Inn with the colorful Promenade. Approximately one hundred and twenty-five couples swayed rhythmically to the music of The Harvardians, a popular Eastern orchestra whose initial engagement for a Middlebury affair made a very favorable impression.

The feature of the affair, and a new gesture in Midd, was the choosing of the Junior Prom Queen. During intermission, Valmer J. Goltry, as general chairman of Junior Week, tapped the committee's choice for queen, Miss Hazel P. Reno, of Saylesville, Rhode Island. Miss Reno was led to the throne, which, beautifully draped, stood upon a raised dais to the left of the fire-place in the main lounge of the Inn. Here, she was presented with a gorgeous bouquet of roses by Alice M. Guest, of the Prom Committee. After several photographs of the queen were taken, Richard J. Humeston as president of the Junior class acknowledged the honor accorded Miss Reno by presenting her with a very attractive vanity case as a permanent souvenir of the event. Miss Reno is a sophomore and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity.

The patrons and patronesses of the affair were Governor and Mrs. John E. Weeks, President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Mr. Burt A. Hazeltine, Miss Eleanor S.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA TO PLAY ABROAD ON THE PRES. HARDING

Blue Baboons Secured by The U. S. Shipping Lines.

The Blue Baboon Orchestra, popular Middlebury undergraduate jazz band, has been secured by the United States Lines, Inc., to play aboard the S. S. President Harding during the summer months, according to an announcement made Monday by Mr. George S. Mabee, assistant manager of the line. The boys leave Hoboken at noon July 3, and sail to England, France and Germany with ample stopping time at each port for them to obtain shore leave and give Europe the "once-over". There will be time for two round trips, the second one bringing the boys back to New York City on August thirty-first in time for them to resume their studies. The position was secured through the efforts of Paul Civarra '31 with the generous assistance of Dean Wiley.

W. A. A. PLAY DAY AT U. V. M., MAY 25

An intercollegiate play day will be held at the University of Vermont Saturday, May 25. The Vermont Women's Athletic Association will be hostess to the Middlebury Association. The day will be designated as Middlebury Day. It is hoped that members of the faculty and those students who have cars will assist in transportation.

The proposed schedule consists of baseball, tennis, archery, track, quoits and stunt relays.

The return trip will be made after supper.

WILLIS RECEIVES K. D. R. CUP AWARD

Presentation Made by Pres. Moody Saturday Evening.

Albert E. Willis of St. Albans, Vermont, was awarded the loving cup donated by Kappa Delta Rho, at the playhouse Saturday evening between the acts of "Not Herbert".

The foundation upon which the award is made is extra-curricular activities, both athletic and non-athletic, scholarship, general character, and loyalty to and support of the ideals of Middlebury College.

His freshman year Mr. Willis played on the frosh football team and was on his fraternity basket-ball team. He is now captain of Varsity Baseball, having played on the team for four years. He played Varsity football in his sophomore and senior years and made a letter both seasons. He was a member of the Varsity basketball squad this winter. In his Junior year he was on the Junior Prom Committee and was Sports Editor of the Kaleidoscope. He is also President of the "M" Club, Vice-president of the Undergraduate Association, a member of the Interfraternity Council and of the Dramatic Club, and is on the Senior Gift Committee. He is a Sage, Waubanahee, and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

MIDDLEBURY W. A. A. AT ST. LAWRENCE

Representatives Attend Intercollegiate Meet Over Week-end.

An intercollegiate play day was held Saturday at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y. The colleges competing were Elmira College for Women, Rochester University, University of Vermont, and St. Lawrence University. Representatives from Middlebury were Eleanor Kocher '30, Virginia Knox '30, Ruth Maltby '30, Ruth Moore '29, Sigrid Manty '29, Emeline Freeborn '29, and Myrtle Bachelder '30. The trip to Burlington was made Friday by car. Representatives from U. V. M. joined them at the ferry. The remainder of the trip was made by bus.

The girls were entertained at sorority houses. Friday evening, Kalon, St. Lawrence Senior honorary society gave a reception for all the guests.

Following is the program for Saturday: 1. relays for all teams. 2. hockey and tennis, Orange and Green teams; baseball and archery, Scarlet and Brown teams. 3. basketball and track, Scarlet and Green teams; bicycle relay and stunts, Orange and Brown teams. Finals were run off in the afternoon in the same order as the morning program.

Each playing period lasted twenty minutes. A warning whistle was blown two minutes before the end of playing time. One point was given to the team which was first ready for the next event.

HONORARY DEBATING FRATERNITY ELECTS EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

Tau Kappa Alpha Chooses Those Who Have Excelled in Varsity Contests.

Eight new members were recently elected to Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity. Participation and excellence in intercollegiate debate is prerequisite to membership.

The new members elected by the Middlebury chapter are Arthur H. Lawson '30, Richard H. Amerman '31, Reamer Kline '32, Miriam A. Turner '30, Marion Jones '32, Mary G. Henseler '31, Eva Tuttle '32, and Ellen M. Kellogg '31.

All of the newly elected members have been active in debating work during the past year. Mr. Lawson has participated in the contests held with Albany Law School, and New York University. His other activities include membership in the French and Dramatic clubs, the assistant editorship of the CAMPUS during the past year, and literary editorship of the 1930 Kaleidoscope, and participation in the this year's Saxonian short story contest, in which he took third prize. He has been a member of the Debating Club during the past year and assistant manager of debating. He has held the position of publicity manager of Wig and Pen and also the literary editorship of the Blue Baboon. He is now contributing editor of the Saxonian, Editor-in-chief of the Silhouette, and Manager of debate for 1929-1930.

Mr. Amerman is assistant manager of debate, and a member of the varsity debating team. He has participated in the contests against Albany Law School, Upsala, Rutgers, and St. Michaels. He has been on the CAMPUS board for the past two years, and is now Managing Editor. He is also Editor-in-chief of the 1931 Kaleidoscope, Business Manager of the Silhouette, and a member of the Dramatic club and the Glee club. He was first prize winner in last year's Parker Prize Speaking Contest, and second placer in this year's Merrill Contest. He is a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Mr. Kline was a member of the debating teams that opposed Vermont and Norwich. He is assistant editor of the CAMPUS, a contributing editor to the Saxonian, and one of the entrants in this year's Parker Prize Speaking contest. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Miss Turner was a member of the women's debating team that opposed Boston University here, and won by a two to one decision. She is a member of the college choir and of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Jones also participated in the Boston University debate. She is prominent in the Dramatic Club, and is a member of the college choir. She is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Henseler was a participant in the recent debate with the University of Vermont. She is a member of the Dramatic and French clubs, and a try out for the editorial staff of the CAMPUS. She is also a competitor for the business staff of the Blue Baboon.

Miss Tuttle appeared in the debate with Boston University, and is prominent in other student activities.

Miss Kellogg was a member of the team opposing Vermont. She is an associate editor of the 1931 Kaleidoscope, a representative to the Pan-Hellenic Council, and a member of the English Club. She has played on class basketball and hockey teams, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Vocational Lecture To Be on Social Work

Anna Smith '02, will address members of the women's college interested in social work in Peason's Social Hall Friday afternoon at 4:30.

BOARDMAN PRIZE IS AWARDED TO STRAUS

Ronald M. Straus '30, of Peekskill, New York, is the winner this year of the annual Deacon Boardman Peace Prize. Every year a prize of $30 is awarded to the member of the Junior class submitting the best essay in favor of peace, and in opposition to war as a method of settling international disputes. It was established in the memory of Samuel Ward Boardman. This essay must also be judged worthy from a literary viewpoint.

Mr. Straus is a member of the dramatic club, and has participated in Parker and Merrill Prize speaking.

WAUBANAHEE TAPS FOUR JUNIOR MEN

Humeston, Goltry, Johnson And Guarnaccia Are Chosen.

Four prominent men of the class of 1930 were tapped by Waubanahee Thursday afternoon at Porter Field before the baseball game with University of Vermont.

Waubanahee is the honorary Senior Society whose purpose is to reward those men who have been outstanding in their class, both in athletic and in extra-curricular activities.

Those tapped were: Richard J. Humeston, Valmer J. Goltry, Samuel Guarnaccia and Ralph F. Johnson.

Mr. Richard J. Humeston of Dover Plains, New York was recently elected President of the Undergraduate Association. Having played on the Varsity Basketball team for three years, he was elected Captain for the 1930 season. He also made his letter in baseball last year. He was a member of the band and is now in the "M" Club. He is also President of the Junior Class, and a member of the Interfraternity Council, Athletic Council and Curriculum Committee. He is a Sage and a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

SENIORS PERMITTED TO USE THEIR CARS

New Ruling Allows Them to Have Autos During Last Month.

The college regulation stating that "students will not be permitted to maintain or operate motor vehicles in the town of Middlebury while college is in session except by permission of the Dean" has hitherto implied that such permission would not be given. An amendment to the regulation has been made by the appropriate authorities of the college whereby Seniors are freed from the rule under certain conditions.

Seniors under no financial obligation to the college and in good standing with the college, may, upon obtaining the sanction of their Dean, maintain cars in Middlebury from Junior Week through graduation. The phrase "no financial obligation" means that the student has neither received scholarship aid from the college nor made use of college loans during his college course. "In good standing with the college" means that the student is not on probation of any sort, and has all cut privileges intact.

The qualifications for making use of the new regulation are:

1. Written permission of the parent or guardian must be obtained.
2. Permission of the Dean.
3. The car must be registered with the Dean.
4. The car may be driven only by the person in whose name it is registered.
5. A proper garage must be provided off campus and the Dean notified of the place.

PANTHER NINE WINS FROM VERMONT AND LOSES TO NORWICH

Vermont Defeated 7 to 0 In Brilliantly Played Contest.

MANY ERRORS IN NORWICH GAME

Ninth Inning Rally Prevents Worse Defeat By Horsemen

The Middlebury baseball team broke even in the two State Championship games that featured the athletic contests of Junior Week. The Blue and White played up to their best form by defeating Vermont 7-0 Thursday, but lost their glory by bowing to the Norwich nine 18-10 Saturday in a very ragged, badly played game.

Middlebury Beats Vermont 7-0
Middlebury outplayed Vermont in every department of the game Thursday and came off the field with 10 hits to the Catamounts' 2. The game was well played from the start to finish and showed that the Blue and White had a good team with a strong chance for the State Championship. Six of the home team's seven runs were made in the fourth and eighth innings as Middlebury scored two in the fourth and four in the eighth.

The fourth inning opened with Hasseltine beating out Young's throw to first; a wild pitch sent him to second; Jacobs went to first on a fielder's choice and Hasseltine was safe at third; Anderson got a single sending Hasseltine home and Jacobs to second; Humeston sent a sacrifice fly to right field advancing Jacobs to third and Anderson to second; Willis sent one down third base line sending Jacobs home and making Anderson out; Willis stole second but Sorensen fanned.

The eighth inning started the batting list again with Franzoni hitting a single, advancing to second on a passed ball, to third on Hasseltine's single, and home on another passed ball; Nelson hit advancing Hasseltine to second; Anderson singled but Hasseltine and Nelson were both caught in a double play, Morse to Traynor to McKay; Humeston singled and advanced Anderson to second and then to third on a passed ball; Willis reached (Continued on page 4)

MANY NEW FEATURES TO BE EMPLOYED IN DRAMA PUBLICATION

Much of the Copy Already In Hands of the Printer.

The business staff of the 1929 Silhouette has launched an energetic drive for subscriptions for the annual dramatic publication. Raymond Saulnier '29 is in charge of sales and advertising, and urges that all those interested in dramatic work at Middlebury place their orders at once, as the number of copies will be limited.

This year the aim of the editorial staff has been to put out a publication worthy of the excellent work in play writing and production that is being done here. With this end in view many new improvements and innovations have been incorporated into the Silhouette. This year's publication will be printed on better paper, and will have a better cover than the Silhouette of last year. The type will be of a more readable size and style. WE WANT MORE?

Yes there were only four Waubanakees tapped last week, but why talk about it? If seven or eight were picked then we would hear, "I don't see how that fellow got it," or "They're picking too many." That is just why only four were tapped. Waubanakee is the highest honor that the men's college can confer on one of its members and if there were many tapped it would cease to be the highest honor. The action of the members of the organization is commendable, let's hope that their attitude will be kept in mind in future elections.

The CAMPUS wishes to congratulate the men receiving the honor this year. No one can say that any of them did not deserve it. Of course there is the "stick in the mud" who thinks that "so and so" or "so and so" should have been tapped, but did he stop to consider everything that goes into the picking of these men? Did it ever occur to him the qualities upon which he judges his man might not be such great achievements after all? The smaller the number in an organization the more coveted the honor of belonging to it.

GOOD WORK.

Junior Week certainly went off in great shape. We wonder how many people thought how much work there is in organizing such an event. The various committees can sit back satisfied that they did a good job and turn their attentions to studying once more.

The newly instituted affairs of the program were highly appreciated. At least you can't find anyone that did not get the greatest amount of enjoyment out of them. A good sized crowd attended the Bridge and Dance and the smiling faces and the reluctance in leaving after the affair was over indicate how glad everyone was that he came. Nothing need be said of the Jamboree except that everyone who went this year wouldn't miss another for anything. It was delightful to get out into the open and enjoy the fresh air and sunlight after a late night of "Prom trotting". It was the first walk up Chipman Hill for many and they found that it was a really nice place.

The Prom couldn't have been more successful and the Tea was enjoyable. The play was more than entertaining. And for all of this we must thank the Junior Week committees. Their fine work should be highly commended.

DO WE WANT THEM?

The Seniors were recently allowed the privilege of keeping automobiles in college after Junior Week. Many of us hope that the time may be extended for the whole year. If those who have cars here for the rest of the term behave and do not abuse the privilege, who can tell, maybe the administration will in time allow it. But don't forget that if you don't play square with them they may even withdraw the concession made so far. You wouldn't want to deprive the seniors of future years of anything because of your folly.

SIMON SAYS, "THUMBS DOWN".

The Interfraternity sing was good in spots, but the spots were few and far between. Why don't the men put the preparation into their program that the women apparently did. The girls presented their songs in an appreciative manner and showed that much practice was put into their work.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Campus:

Mention should be made of the rather unusual circumstances afforded those who attended the concert by the orchestra and choir a short time ago. At that time the soloist of the evening, James Thomson, was also represented on the program as a composer. The songs were pleasing and well written, and showed genuine musical feeling. Mr. Thomson should be complimented on his versatility. Observer.

SAXONIAN REVIEW

The Winter number of the Saxonian is before me for appraisal. There are three stories, two poems by Charles Malam, two other poems, and the epistolary interchange between Harold Bergman and President Moody. This so completely overshadows the other articles that it is surprising to see it buried away in the middle of the magazine. Comment upon it must wait until other matters are considered. These other matters are the stories. The point of the first story, Clay, is evident enough, and true enough. Yet I cannot help wondering what young people of today really think about God, to debase him as this story does into nothing more than a man. It is anthropomorphism with divine majesty left out. A more reverential attitude is due the deity, even if he is nothing more than a creation of man's imagination. The second story, Bronze Medusa, is a picture, I suppose, though I am not sure, of jealous motherhood. I wonder whether situations are true. It has about it a touch of unreality; but as I have never been a mother I cannot tell. The last story, The Pipe of Merk La Roue, is, in many respects, vividness of conception, contact with reality, for instance, at once the best and the most promising of the three. It is highly imaginative in the realistic manner. It has movement and power. I am not quite certain about the pertinence of the last paragraph. In the body of the story, also, the rush of imagination has made the ideas tumble out in rather incoherent sentence form, which often leaves the thought of individual sentences confused. It would have been greatly improved by a careful revision of the sentence structure for perfect clarity.

Comment upon the Bergman-Moody correspondence has been rife. My judgement is that President Moody, in spite of the handicap of being a college President, and not an undergraduate, has a trifle the best of the argument. It is easy to sit back in one's seat and be critical of one's instructors, and the instructor usually feels that it is but beating up the wind to say anything in his own defence. But it must be remembered that conducting a class is not preaching an inspirational sermon. It is an endeavor to get a body of knowledge across to a group of young people who are supposed to benefit thereby. And yet what Bergman seems to want is for each professor to exhibit his whole bag of tricks for the amusement and edification of the class. In fact, if he does not do so the class reverts to inattention and complains that for them the course has no uplift. Do they sense the deadly reaction upon the instructor of their blase and world-weary inattention? The answer I would give to Bergman is in a sense President Moody's also. Action and reaction are equal. The pupil will get maximum inspiration and intellectual uplift from the instructors in those courses into which he puts the best of his own intellect. The reason he gets no inspiration out of college classes is because he puts no inspiration into them. Routine is, of course, necessary in instruction; and it can only be lightened by cooperation between instructor and student. From the view-point of the instructor, it seems true that the failure in cooperation is with the student. He gets out of college in intellectual training only what he puts into it in intellectual effort. Had Bergman willingly given, had he not withheld himself, he would have received rich interest on his investment.

Just because there are three reviews on this page, don't think that this is the theater and book section of the Sunday paper.

DRAMA REVIEW

"Not Herbert" is not bad as a mystery play, but as a choice for a Junior play it is nothing to boast of. When we are alone by ourselves we can play with ourselves as much as we want to; but during Junior Week we are on exhibition and our friends want us to show the best stuff that we have in us. They really are chagrined if we are not just the least bit high-brow; not enough to hurt, but so that they can point with pride. There must be about us, in order to satisfy them, something of the aroma of an institution of higher learning.

And now, having "panned" the play, let me praise the actors. As I saw the Wednesday evening "rehearsal" production, I am not going to refer in a caustic manner to certain obvious lapses of memory. They were, I understand, not in evidence on Saturday evening. Those omitted, I greatly enjoyed the most of the acting. Mr. Howard was astonishingly good as Herbert Alden. He carried successfully his Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde effects, clearly dominating, as he should, each of his scenes, and modulating his action with great skill to emphasize his character portrayal. Mr. Wilson always brings that comfortable feeling of certainty when he makes his appearances, which relieves the audience of any anxiety lest the play will not go. He may be fooling us, but it gets across. It is difficult to know what new and discriminating thing to say about Miss Cruikshank. It is true, however, that as far as the play was concerned it is a most lucky thing that she is a Junior. I have often commented upon the skillful way in which she always enters into her part and shows a conspicuous versatility in her acting. Mr. Henry made an excellent detective; but what seemed to me his best moment was his daze at the end when the lights went out and some one of the numerous crooks lifted his watch. Mr. Stanley made an excellent butler and accomplice for Herbert. Mr. Hathaway had a difficult part, dominated as he was by both Herbert and Polly; but he got away with it successfully. Mr. Wheatley and Miss Guest gave polished presentations of their scenes, perhaps a little slow in tempo, but carried with suitable reserve. Mr. Wheatley was a most acceptable society crook. Miss Comtois had the part in the play which was the most difficult because the least convincing as the author wrote it. There was nothing in the author's Herbert to inspire affection in any self-respecting young lady. It is a great tribute to Miss Comtois that she made the part seem real to the audience. Miss Parker and Miss Higgins, who had similar parts, acted with discrimination and skill, and Mr. Nylen played up to Mr. Henry satisfactorily.

The sets were well arranged. They were attractive backgrounds to the action and yet never obtruded themselves upon it. Make-up and costuming were also in excellent taste. On the whole the presentation reflected great credit upon the class responsible for it and made a most entertaining culmination for a very successful Junior Week.

Novel Bridge Dance

A large and enthusiastic crowd found the bridge dance Thursday evening at the Middlebury Inn most enjoyable. The committee, with Mr. Wells as chairman, certainly is to be congratulated on the success of this new feature of the Junior Week program, for it was one of the outstanding events of all the week.

The affair began at 7:15 o'clock and lasted until 11:00 o'clock. Bridge tables were arranged in the lounge and dainty tallies for the players were provided. The couples were busily engaged with

BLUE BABOON REVIEW

The cover of the latest Blue Baboon is a misnomer. It reads, "Not funny, but clean", whereas the issue is both funny and not clean. Censorial intelligence is either generous, or not over subtle, or is it that we are over subtle? Be that as it may, there are overtones which belie frequent assertions of purity. (No, we have not been hired to write this review, nor have we any stock in the corporation, so we won't profit if you buy a copy.)

The Blue Baboon is becoming distressingly literary and its first novel will not be greeted favorably by those minds which do not use continuous effort. But the novel is good and we hope that the editors will not be discouraged by adverse comments.

The Board has undoubtedly made a brave effort to be decent, but since that is impossible, why not admit the fact, and indulge in the old riotous orgies over again? Most of the professors will not understand, so the procedure will be perfectly safe. A.B.C.

their cards until shortly after nine when the tables were cleared away to give place to dancing.

Dick Henderson's famous orchestra furnished excellent music, and everyone seemed to enter enthusiastically into the spirit of the party. Light refreshments were served throughout the evening.

Tea Dance Thursday Afternoon

The social program of Junior Week commenced with a charming tea dance in the gymnasium after the Vermont baseball game Thursday afternoon. The gym was tastefully arranged and decorated beyond recognition.

Stunts at Opera House

The annual Interfraternity Stunt Program was held at the Opera House Friday Morning at 10:30 with a capacity crowd attending.

Sorority Sing

The annual girls' inter-sorority singing was held Sunday, May 12, on the steps of Pearsons Hall. The sororities sang in this order: Sigma Kappa, "The Triangle", and "Rip Van Winkle"; Phi Mu, "Memories", and "The Phi Mu Ghost Song"; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Tumble In", and "Gamma Lambda"; Pi Beta Phi, "The Pledge to Pi Beta Phi", and "The Arrow Man"; Delta Delta Delta, "The Pearl Song", and "The Banjo Song"; Alpha Xi Delta, "The Magic of Alpha Xi Delta", and "Many Are the Other Frats".

Fraternity Sing

Each fraternity, one after another, took their places on the chapel steps, and sang two of their own songs, in most cases one amusing or spirited, and the other more serious. All were received with much applause. The order of fraternities was as follows: Delta Upsilon, Chi Psi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Kappa, Kappa Delta Rho, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Alpha Sigma Phi.

PANTHER TRACK MEN DOWN ST. LAWRENCE IN ONLY HOME MEET

College Records Broken
In Pole Vault and Hammer Throw.

VISITORS WIN ONLY
TWO FIRST PLACES

Blue Sweeps Every Place
In Three Track
Events.

The Middlebury College Track team defeated St. Lawrence University by the score of 84½ to 50½, in a meet held on Porter Field last Friday afternoon. Two college records fell as Dick Paul broke the pole vault record by going over the bar at eleven feet, and "Dutch" Schmidt threw the hammer 128 feet and 2 inches. The Panther took first place in every event except the hurdle races, and a tie for first in the pole vault. In the mile, the two mile, and the quarter mile, the Blue and White runners swept every place.

In the dashes Captain "Gil" Smith continued his unbroken string of victories by winning the hundred and two-hundred. "Gil" ran the hundred in ten flat which is as fast as the race has ever been run on the track at Porter Field. Goltry finished close behind Percy of St. Lawrence for a third in both races.

It looked as though the visitors would grab a first in the four-hundred when a St. Lawrence man tore down the back stretch a good twenty yards ahead of the nearest blue-and-white runner but his lead proved to be only a flash in the pan for Goltry, Burrows, and Sanzo passed him on the last turn and finished in the order named. Anyone who happened to pass Porter Field in the midst of the two mile race would have had a tough time telling who was ahead. Four Middlebury men were running about a yard apart while the rest of the track was strewn with visiting runners who lagged anywhere from fifty yards to three-quarters of a lap in the rear.

The mile race was also all Middlebury. Hanson came down the last stretch with a burst of speed that put him several yards ahead of Butler and Cox, but "Doc" had a kick left, and rushed to the fore to win by a matter of inches.

Despite Sherman's belated appearance Middlebury failed to take better than a third in both the 120 high and 220 low hurdle events, but in the broad jump which was also labeled a weakness last week, Clark Johnson pushed himself through the air for a first with a jump of 21 feet and 1 inch.

100 yard dash—Won by Smith (M); second, Percy (St. L); third, Goltry (M). Time—10s. (Equals track record).

220 yard dash—Won by Smith (M); second, Percy (St. L); third, Goltry (M). Time—23s.

440 yard run—Won by Goltry (M); second, Burrows (M); third, Sanzo (M). Time—54.8s.

880 yard run—Won by Farnham (M); second, Shoen (St. L); third, Calder (St. L). Time—2m. 10s.

Mile run—Won by Butler (M); second, Hanson (M); third, Cox (M). Time—4m. 55s.

Two mile run—Won by Dalton (M); second, Harwood (M); third, Butler (M). Time—10m. 55.8s.

120 yard high hurdles—Won by Cary (St. L); second, Hoyt (St. L); third, Sherman (M). Time—17.4s.

220 yard hurdles—Won by Hoyt (St. L); second, Cary (St. L); third, Sherman (M). Time—28s.

Javelin Throw—Won by Schmidt (M); second, Johnson (St. L); third, Vreeland (St. L). Distance—154 feet 2 inches.

NETMEN WIN FROM VERMONT PLAYERS ON LOCAL COURTS

Woodbury, Sun and Morize
Win Singles; Woodbury and Sloper Doubles.

Vermont fell before the Middlebury tennis team on Hepburn Courts Thursday afternoon by the score of four matches to two. Capt. Woodbury, Sun and Morize won their singles matches while Woodbury and Sloper were victorious in their doubles match.

Rain at the scheduled hour of the match caused the postponement of the beginning of play until about three o'clock. At that hour, with only two courts in condition, the number three and four singles were played. Morize opposing Pouch, who has been ineligible

(M); second, Percy (St. L); third, Coughlin (St. L). Distance—21 feet 1 inch.

High Jump—Won by Bagley (M); second, Van Dyke (St. L); third, tie between Affleck (M) and Farrington (St. L). Height—5 feet 10¼ inches. (Equals college record).

Pole Vault—Tie for first place between Paul (M) and Brown (St. L); third, Williams (M). Height—11 feet. (New college record).

for play until this year, won 6-3, 9-7. In the first set Pouch was wild with his shots and Morize won quite handily, but the second set exhibited much good playing and it was only after a hard fight that the victory was gained. Placement drives that kept his opponent on the run were Morize's offensive plays that finally defeated his opponent.

Goddard of Vermont won the closest match of the day from Daland, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. Daland's smashing serve kept him in the running at all times, but occasional let-downs in net play gave his less brilliant but steadier opponent the match.

Sun, playing his first varsity match, gained a victory from the number two man, Borkland, of Vermont, by the score, 6-1, 7-5. "Tommy" took his opponent off his feet in the first set by his steady drives that always found their mark. In the second set Borkland gained a lead of 5 games to 1, and then Sun exhibited some of the best tennis of the day when he won six straight games and the match.

For the first time this year the college was able to see Capt. Woodbury in action. He did not disappoint his audience, for he buried Capt. Shedd of Vermont, 6-4, 6-0. Not thoroughly limbered up "Woodie" allowed Shedd to gain a lead of four games to one, but then he opened up with his combined chop stroke and slamming game, and his opponent did not win another game during the afternoon. Many of the spectators were awed by the manner in which he returned seemingly impossible shots throughout this match and the doubles that followed.

In the number 2 doubles Daland and Bemiss lost to Pouch and Macombe, 6-2, 6-1. Long rallies with good playing on both sides was predominant in this match, but the Middlebury players seemed to lack the punch necessary to win the points.

In the last match of the day Woodbury and Sloper easily won from Shedd and Borkman, 6-1, 6-0. The Vermont players were in poor form and did not offer much competition for the Panther doubles team.

Three to Three Tie Monday

Playing on the Burlington courts the tennis team held Vermont to a three to three tie Monday afternoon. Vermont was out to revenge the defeat of last week, and their players exhibited a better quality of tennis than was the case in the previous match. In the singles, Capt. Woodbury, Sun, and Daland gained victories to give Middlebury a 3 to 1 lead, but Vermont came back and was able to capture both of the doubles.

Woodbury, although hampered by trouble with his legs, played his same steady game to win from Capt. Shedd, 6-3, 6-2. Sun again showed great ability in winning points when behind, and though his opponent, Borkland, gained an early lead in both sets, he won 6-4, 6-4. Daland showed some of his best tennis of the season when he defeated Goddard, 6-4, 7-9, 6-1. Morize lost a very close and hard played match to Pouch, 8-6, 6-8, 7-5.

ed first on McKay's error sending Humeston to second and Anderson home; Sorensen tripped bringing Willis home; Kelley was thrown out by Wood at first. The other run was made by Kelley in the fifth.

Vermont only threatened to score once in the second inning with McKay on third and Wood on first when Jay struck out. Every man played a good game of ball and backed up Cook's nine strike outs well.

Norwich Defeats Midd 18-10

The second State Championship contest held Saturday was an ill-fated one for the Blue and White, as Middlebury lost by the score of 18-10 to Norwich. The game was featured by errors for both sides, with Middlebury having the advantage with twelve. The home team seemed over-confident and failed to back up any of the four pitchers used.

In the first inning Franzoni and Hasseltine both singled and were brought home on Anderson's triple after Nelson fanned; Humeston and Sorensen both went out with three strikes. The second inning opened with Kelley getting a walk. Willis reaching first on Hourin's fumble of his sacrifice; Kelley was thrown out by Waning at third letting McDermott reach first and Willis second; they were both sent home on Franzoni's triple and the latter followed them on a passed ball; Hasseltine was left on second when Nelson fanned and Anderson was put out at first. The next three innings were scoreless for the home team. In the sixth Franzoni made his single good by scoring on two passed balls and a stolen base. In the seventh Anderson singled, reached second and was advanced to third on Makela's sacrifice, and came home on a passed ball. The eighth inning was scoreless.

A ninth innings rally saved Midd from a much worse defeat, as three runs were added to the Blues' score. Hasseltine opened by hitting a birdy over the right field fence just short of the flag for a double; Nelson made first on Kane's error advancing Hasseltine to third; Anderson was thrown out by Cannon at first; Olsen, batting for Hingston, doubled, sending Hasseltine home and Nelson to third; Sorensen was walked and reached second on a passed ball while Nelson went home; Livingston fanned and Douglas was thrown out by Waning at first.

Norwich hit all over the lot, scoring three in the first, five in the fourth, two in the fifth, one in the sixth, two in the seventh, one in the eighth, and four in the ninth, a total of eighteen runs on fourteen hits and only two of these runs were really earned. The Blue and White has certainly got to do much better than that if they expect to take

BAND TO PLAY ON OCEAN LINER

The orchestra was organized early this year under the direction of Mr. Calvin Affleck '31. The band has won great popularity on the campus and in the surrounding territory, having played in most of the larger towns, schools, and colleges hereabouts. With the coming of the summer months, Mr. Affleck has assumed another position which makes it impossible for him to accompany the band abroad, but the band has found another director in the person of Mr. Higgins '29 who will take the place of Mr. Affleck. Mr. Higgins has won much fame and popularity in New England with his excellent piano work and slight-of-hand tricks. He has composed several songs with the assistance of Mr. Herrmann '32, which have won much popularity wherever they have been played. Several of these songs will be submitted to the publishers very shortly. Mr. Civarra will lead the orchestra while Mr. Higgins assumes the directorship.

The band will travel under the name of the Black Panther Serenaders in as much as that is the only name exactly appropriate to an orchestra representing Middlebury College, and this is the only band made up entirely of students, and so it deserves the unique distinction of carrying the colors and songs of Middlebury to foreign climes.

The men who will make the trip are: Harold R. "Hal" Herrmann '32, saxophone; E. Emerson "Bus" Waite '29, saxophone; Harold R. "Hal" Higgins '29, piano; "Ken" Simpson '31, drums; Morris T. "Johnny" Johnson '29, banjo and violin; and Paul "Doc" Civarra '31, violin and leader.

NEW FEATURES IN 1929 SILHOUETTE

ber of cuts will be unusually large, and will greatly enhance the interest and value of the 1929 Silhouette. These improvements have more than trebled the cost of the book, but the staff has held down the sales price to as close to cost as possible.

All of the reviews were written expressly for the Silhouette, and are not the ones that appeared in the CAMPUS. Much of the copy is now in the hands of the printers, and the staff estimates completion at a very early date.

Among the cuts to be used are many never before published, and all have been chosen because of some unusual interest in composition or in the sets used. Cuts of last year's three Swift plays will be included, and there will be a photograph of the Wig and Pen, and one of the interior of the Play House.

Professor F. W. Cady and Mr. V. Spencer Goodreds will be among the contributors. Professor Cady will compare the work of this season to that of past years, while Mr. Goodreds will discuss playwriting progress at Middlebury.

The following persons will be in charge of Silhouette sales at their respective houses:

Delta Upsilon, Arthur Pierce '30; Delta Kappa Epsilon, Raymond Bosworth '29; Chi Psi, Harold S. King '31; Kappa Delta Rho, Harold Higgins '30; Beta Psi, Paul Civarra '31; Beta Kappa, Kenneth MacClelland '31; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Robert Spenser '31; Alpha Sigma Phi, Roy Hardy '31.

A match in LaCrosse was played for the benefit of those colleges where the game is not played.

Connie Monahan's '27 baseball team played St. Lawrence Freshmen that afternoon.

A canoe trip and picnic supper had been planned for the evening, but the water was too rough. The supper was held in the gymnasium. The evening was spent in dancing.

Rosettes bearing the name and date of the event were presented to the winning team of which both Myrtle Bachelder and Ruth Maltby were members, and canes with St. Lawrence pennants were given to all the participants.
